This notification would be seen within the user account. The user would also get an email about the notification.

This notification would remove from page after certain date.

In the admin, I would select the account holder name and the player that the notification is to be sent to.

- Admin creates “Course Packages” in backend.
- Admin can add particular course into package and state the rules that go for that package.
  - Rules would be % discount off if package includes multiple courses and/or other courses included for free in package.
- Admin can select the user that the package is allowed for.
- System sends user a notification and they follow links to select package/courses and pay

Please Note: the next page shows the packages that the tennis club currently offer. I have tried to show this in way that I think is simple for user but you may have a better idea. If so, please tell me as I am only making guesses.

Thank you!

As part of a DRH Sports performance tennis programme [Player Name] can access the following sessions for the upcoming term. Please choose from the available packages below and complete the payment. To see an overview of the course, please click the course name.
